Nessie's story

It was a bad day - rainy and stormy. Nessie swam in 250 metres depth and destroyed the old city of Atlantis. It was Nessie's home and nobody knew that Atlantis was in Loch Ness. Nessie came on land every day and ate all the tourists around Loch Ness.

One day Mr Plural came and wanted to destroy Nessie. He drove with his batmobil to Scotland but he couldn't find Nessie. Every day he watched TV to find out some news about Nessie. After some time he saw some information about Australia and in the background there was Nessie!

He packed his stuff and drove to Edinburgh from where he flew to Sydney in Australia. He bought a submarine and searched for Nessie in the Australian Sea. Anyway, he couldn't find Nessie! In the newspaper there was an article about Nessie and Loch Ness.

Mr Plural went back to Scotland by submarine and took the North Sea channel to Loch Ness. Then, finally, he saw Nessie! He shot a torpedo to Nessie, but Nessie laughed! Next Mr Plural came with a power jump and hit Nessie.

The secret meeting

January 2019

Rosie and her family were in Scotland for a week. Rosie absolutely wanted to go there because in Scotland there is Loch Ness, a huge, dark mystical lake. Anyway the main reason why Rosie wanted to go to Scotland so much is not only the lake, but her interest in finding out if Nessie is in the lake. Nessie is the legendary monster of Loch Ness and Rosie wants to find out if Nessie is real or not. She does not want to know this to get famous or to get a lot of money, she wants to prove that this world is full of mysterious animals. Since two weeks the date for the journey has been set and since then Rosie forges different plans to sneak out at night to look for Nessie. With a lot of effort and need, Rosie was able to sneak out unnoticed on the night of her third day. The apartment of the family was very close to the lake and Rosie could go there relaxed with her flashlight. When she was in front of the lake she stopped and looked at the water, the stars of the clear night sky reflected on the surface of water. "In this darkness and so far away from the shore, I'll never see Nessie!" Rosie thought. She walked to the shore as close as she could and then, suddenly, something grabbed her foot, dragged her across the grass straight into the water. Rosie was far too surprised to let out a cry for help.

She found herself with a huge bubble around her head in the middle of the lake again. It took a few minutes for Rosie to realize that she was in the lake. "Oh wow... what?! I can speak and breathe under water?!" Rosie spoke in amazement. "Yes..." an unknown voice behind Rosie said. When she turned around, she did not trust her eyes. "Nessie?" Rosie whispered.

"Okay..., I can't catch up with what you're saying right now! This bubble around my head supplies me with oxygen and you rarely show up yourself because you're scared that people don't like you, but why did you kidnap me?" Rosie said, very surprised. Nessie answered with some embarrassment. "I don't want to scare you, really, but so often I feel lonely alone in the lake...". "You aren't alone at all, below the sea level there are so many wonderful creatures you can become friends with. Now I want you to bring me back to the shore!" Rosie spoke with a firm, determined voice.

When Rosie was back on the shore, she suddenly noticed that the sun had almost risen. "Bye Nessie, my parents are waiting for me!", Rosie said hastily. When she was about to start running, Nessie shouted after her: "Wait Rosie! One second! Please don't tell anyone that we met. Neither your family nor your friends. Please, I beg you with all my heart." "Okay, but why?", Rosie asked puzzled and a bit disappointed because she had been quite looking forward to telling everyone Nessie was real. "Just promise me you won't." Nessie said urgently. "Alright, I promise! We will meet again soon! Bye!", cried Rosie as she had started running already all along. On the way home, Rosie wondered what a pity it was that no one would ever hear anything about Nessie, but Rosie had promised something and she always kept her promises. Additionally, she wanted to be able to count on Nessie in the future too.

Harry Potter and Loch Ness

The water was black. Harry saw a long neck and a small head. Something grabbed Harry's foot and dragged him under water. Harry took his magic wand and cried "Ascendio" and he went up. "Harry...Harry..." Harry woke up frightened and he saw Hermione and she looked scared "Harry are you ok?" Hermione asked. Harry was confused and said "Yeah, I'm ok-it was just a dream" "Harry, we go to Hogwarts today. We must speak with someone like McGonagall. "Hurry up" Hermione said. Harry looked around and he remembered he was in the tent. Close to him there was Ron in his bed. You could not describe how he looked like. It was a mix between happiness and fear. Close to Harry there was a table with sandwiches. Only now he did realize that he was hungry. Harry reached for a sandwich, Ron too. "And what was in your dream?" Ron asked. Harry tried to remember everything "I was in a dark lake and I saw... I saw a long neck and a small head. And then this animal or creature put me under water. I could not see anything and then, then I'm not sure what happened after that" Harry said "You look so thoughtful Hermione, are you ok?" Ron asked "Yeah I'm ok but the dream..." Hermione said, "What about the dream?" Harry asked. "um...It is not that important" Hermione said. Harry asked "And how do we get to hogwarts?", anyone could tell Voldemort or anyone else where we are when we go to Hogwarts" "unfortunately we need Polyjuice Potion" Hermione said "oh no" Ron said "I'm sure you will not like it, but drink it for your safety" Hermione put the glasses on the table next to Harry. Ron and Harry looked at each other in surprise, but they took the glasses after all. Hermione got a third glass and drank the juice. Ron and Harry too. Hermione turned into Draco Malfoy, Harry turned into Blaise Zabini and Ron turned into Pansy Parkinson. "Why am I a Girl and you a Boy?" Ron asked "ups I think I swapped the glasses, but we have little time left" Hermione said. Give me your hands. Ron and Harry took Hermione's hand. Harry knew the apparition. He lost the ground underneath and saw everything blurry. Then he saw that he was in Hogsmead. Harry, Ron and Hermione ran to the gate. She took her magic wand, and then the gate opened. They went to Hogwarts. "I remember my first day in Hogwarts, it was great" Harry said. They came to Hogwarts, and they heard voices from the Great hall at the Entrance hall. "We have to got to McGonagall" Hermione said. "Maybe she's in Gryffindore's room" Ron said. They went to Gryffindore's room, but they did not know the secret code. Just then McGonagall came around the corner. She was startled:” what are you doing here?” “I’m not Draco Malfoy, I’m Hermione Granger I drank Polyjuice Potion, we have to talk to you urgently” Hermione said. McGonagall thought about it and then she said “Ok, come with me” and they followed her. They walked into an old classroom. “ So... What do you have to tell me?” McGonagall asked “ Harry had another dream of something unusual, and I have to ask for permission from the forbidden Library Department, I have to look something up!” Hermione said “of course, I try to stop everyone from going to the library, and I’m glad to see you!” McGonagall said and she went out. “ We are in hurry” Harry said. And they ran to the library. They looked around “Fast! Come over there” Ron said “Alohomora” Hermione screamed. The lock on the door jumped out, the door opened and they went in. “Look for all the books you find about this creature.” Hermione said and they all went to different shelves. One hour later Hermione screamed “Yeah, I found the right book” Ron and Harry ran to her. “ I was notsure, but now I know that the creature called “Nessie” “ Hermione said “Who is Nessie?” Ron asked “Nessie is a monster in Scotland. As the legend says the monster lives in Loch Ness. This is a dark sea, nobody can say what there is in the water!” Hermione said “ I must see the monster. There is something about the monster Voldemort wants. “ Harry, you know that we came too?” Hermione said “ This book says that the sea is 250 metres deep and 37 kilometres long, a man saw Nessie but nobody belived him and here” Hermione pointed to a text passage “It says the word Loch means lake.” Hermione said “ We must look if Nessie is real.” Ron said “ We’re going to Scotland” Hermione said. “We could apparate?” Ron asked “ No we can not, there is apparier protection there” Hermione said. “Yes, but elves can apparate there?” Harry asked. “You’re so awesome of course why did I not figure it out by myself?” Hermione said “But which elf would like to do that?” Ron asked. Harry laughed “Hm..... which one? Your are so stupid Ronald” Hermione said and laughed. “Ah... no! Help me. I do not get it.” Ron desperately said. “Do your remember who Dobby is?” Harry asked “Ah...Yes I remember Dobby but how we can find him?” Ron asked. “Dobby works in the Hogwarts kitchen, I have got no idea where he be?” Hermione said sarcastically. They went to the Hogwarts kitchen, looked around, and then they saw Dobby with different pairs of socks and the colorful sweater that said “Harry Christmas” That sweater was old, Harry remember where he saw the swater for the first time. Dobby was very happy said. “Harry Potter do you need anything?” Dobby asked “Yes, we need help Dobby, we must go to Scotland, can you take us there?" Hermione asked "Dobby will help Harry Potter, Hermione, and Ron" "Do you know my name?" Hermione asked "Yes, Dobby knows all names from Harry Potter's friend's" Dobby said flattered. "Take my hand" They took Dobby's hand. They apparated to Scotland close to the sea. "Please, Harry Potter I have to go back" And Dobby went back. "Take out your magic wands" Harry said. They took out their magic wands. They saw something. It was long and it swam to them. It was as long as a whale. It shot out of the water. Everyone got wet. Then it snapped at Hermione. She screamed. Ron screamed even louder "Nooooo" "No, Ron you could hit Hermione" Harry said. The monster shot out again. But now it was reaching for Harry. Harry heard Ron scream so loud. Harry swam surface. It was a dark lake. The water was black. Harry saw a long neck and a small head. Something grabbed Harry's foot and dragged him under water. Harry took his magic wand and cried "Ascendio" and he went up. Right at that moment Ron and Hermione also went up too. They landed on solid ground. And then everybody screamed "PETRIFICUS TOTALUS" And Nessie fell over.

THE END

The Loch Ness Monster

Me and my family have a holiday in Scotland. I really want to go to Loch Ness to see Nessie. My mother thinks we go there but she wants to look at the city next to Loch Ness first. Two days later we drive to Loch Ness by car. "It is soooooooo big!" I say "Do you think Nessie is real?" Now, you have to find that out for yourself.

"I am sure Nessie is real. I will show you! I need some information to start with".

I walk along the shores of Loch Ness to find an information board. There it is: Loch Ness is 250 metres deep, 37 kilometres long, Nessie is maybe there, maybe there is an exit to the North Sea and some people think Nessie is a whale or a dinosaur. "Oh.... So big! I would not have thought that. I think I sit down with my parents to look at the water."

go to the middle of page 2

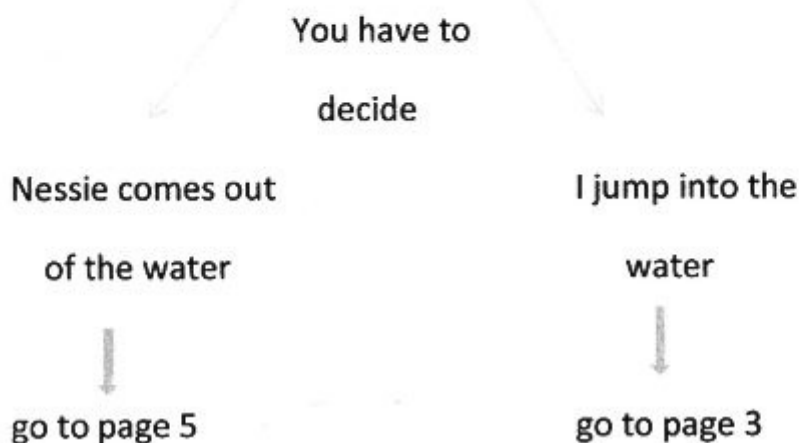

"I think Nessie is not real! Can we make a boat tour?" I asked. My dad answers: "Yes of course. Then we learn more about Loch Ness and the monster. Uhhhhhhh!" "Oh dad, Nessie isn't real!" "Maybe yes, maybe not. It is not clear!" On the boat, we see all of the water. "Hello and welcome on my boat tour! Today I show you some places where many people think they saw Nessie. First I give you some general information about Loch Ness. The lake is 250 metres deep and 37 kilometres long. The water is very dark and you can't see very much. Because of these facts we can not say if Nessie is real or not!" says the captain. I say: "Loch Ness is so big? I have not thought that... Here is the first place. Here a lot of people "saw" Nessie..."

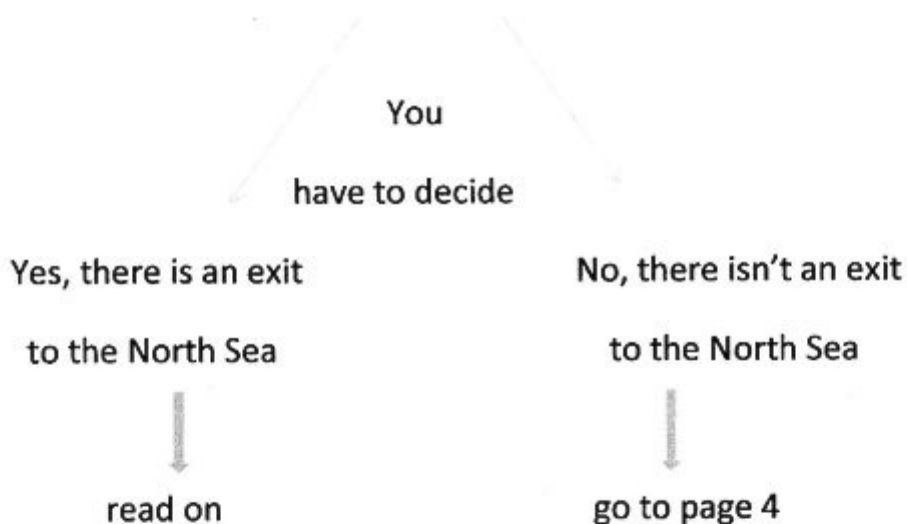

After the boat tour I sit at the end of Loch Ness and look at the water.

Read on

"What is this in the water?" I ask. "I think that's Nessie!" dad says. "Do you really think?" I ask. "Oh yes I think so!" Dad answers. At once Nessie's head comes out of the water. "Dad, dad! Take a photo. Maybe we get rich and famous!" On the lakeshore hectic breaks out. Everybody wants to see Nessie.

"Oh yes, Nessie is real!" I jump into the water and see Nessie's big body next to me. His head is above the water. I swim to Nessie and say: "Dad take a photo. I am the first person who touches Nessie!" I know that I must be quiet because Nessie is next to me. I swim to Nessie's long neck and sit down. I ride on him. "Hi Nessie! I am a friend. Would you like to swim with me?" Nessie nods. She swims over the water. Now she gives me an air bubble, so I can breathe under water. She swims down and shows me her sleeping place. "That's my home," Nessie says. "You can speak?" "Oh yes, everybody who takes the air bubble on his/her head can hear me speak!" "That's so cool! Is there an exit to the North Sea in the lake? Some people think there is!"

"Oh yes. I often swim out the Loch to meet my family. They are in the North Sea. I am the only ... hm ... how do you say that?" I say: "I don't know. We think you are the only of your kind! ... You are the Nessies!" "Ok. I am the only Nessie who can swim into Loch Ness. The other Nessies are too big!" "Oh, do you miss your family?" I ask. "No, Loch Ness is my bedroom. I see my family every day!" Nessie says. "And why are you here?" "I like all the people here and everybody needs his or her own room!" "Oh yes, you are right!"

The End

"Oh no, here is no exit to the North Sea. I am separated of other animals of my kind. It is sadly to live like that, but there are so many people here. I can play with them. I just have to swim so much on the water surface so that they can see a small piece of my body and they freak out." "Do you feel a little bit lonely or alone?" I ask. "Yes, I feel lonely, but I am not alone. Here are so many other animals! They are my friends!" "And what do you eat?" "I eat seaweed. I am a vegetarian!" She answers. "Can I try a little bit?" "Oh hahaha. I don't think you will like it. It is the hell on earth!" "And why do you eat it?" "I have got no choice! The animals I eat otherwise are not here. I must eat it because I want to live!" "Oh, I am sorry. I didn't know that!" "It is not your fault." "I would like to help you!" Nessie and I swim to the end of Loch Ness. Here, we dig an exit.

"If you did not have the courage to come to me, I would still be stuck. Thank you!" Nessie says. "I liked to do that!" I say.

The End

At once Nessie comes out of the water. She is as big as three houses. All people run away, but I go to Nessie. She looks afraid. "Hey! Nessie! It is all right. The people are afraid of you." "And why aren't you afraid?" Nessie asks. "The people think you are a monster, but I know you are afraid. I will help you! Why do you come out of the water?" I ask. "I want the people to see me. They look for me all the time!" Nessie answers. "How can I help you to be happy or are you happy?" I ask. "I am famous, but the people think I am a legend. I want the people to like me," "OK, I think I can do that, but I can't promise it." I answer. "OK, you can try it." I go into the city to buy some speakers. Meanwhile, Nessie goes into the water. I am back, and call Nessie. I use the speakers and say: "Come here to me and Nessie. She is real! I can speak to her, but not everybody can. She tells me she is famous, but only a legend. She would like to play with us maybe like a horse in the water. We can take photos or slide into the water. Is that a good idea? Please help me and Nessie!"

The people come to me and build a semicircle around us. I hear the people speak like: "Nessie isn't dangerous?" or: "My children would like it."

But we have got a problem. Loch Ness is too deep so that the children, who can't swim, can't play with Nessie. We must find a place where the water is not so deep. "Nessie where is a place in Loch Ness, where the water not so deep?" "Let us go to the left end of Loch Ness." "Good, come on, we must buy something. Nessie you will wait here. We come back in an hour." We go to the city and buy a floating leash. "So Nessie! Come here. We are back!" I am heeereeeee!!!! "What did you do?" "I leveled the bottom for the children." "That's good! Can you pick me up and bring me to the swimming arena?" "Yes, I am coming!" Nessie comes to me and brings me to the swimming arena. We fix the floating leash and I tell the people and the kids how far they can swim.

The Nessie swimming park is open and everybody is happy.
